FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 16 | 8:00 AM – 12:00 PM

RENAISSANCE ARLINGTON CAPITAL VIEW HOTEL
2800 South Potomac Avenue, Arlington, VA 22202

As the nation's largest health care-focused law firm, Hall Render is committed to the legal needs of the health care industry. Hall Render's Medical Staff Services Team has assisted health systems, hospitals and physician groups across the country with countless medical staff and quality matters, ranging from routine credentialing issues and complex peer review litigation to medical staff modernization and peer review redesign. Using an interactive format, this seminar will explore the latest trends and national and state developments related to medical staff innovation and best practices, peer review privilege challenges, telemedicine and delegated credentialing, physician health matters, transparency in disclosures, health system and regionalized medicine and the impact of payment reform on credentialing. We will share our knowledge and experience concerning these topics and others. We will provide practical solutions related to medical staff governance, credentialing, privileging and quality improvement.

This interactive seminar is ideal for medical staff leaders, VPMA/CMOs, medical staff and peer review professionals, legal counsel, risk directors or other credentialing and peer review stakeholders.

This seminar has been approved for continuing medical education (see page 3). Accreditation for NAMSS CE is pending.

AL ADELMAN

Allan Adelman has been engaged exclusively in the practice of hospital and health care law, including the defense of medical malpractice cases, for over 40 years. He serves as general counsel to several acute care general hospitals in Maryland and as special counsel for medical staff, credentialing, peer review, risk management, compliance and hospital-physician issues for numerous other hospitals across the country.

TIM ADELMAN

Tim Adelman counsels health care clients regarding compliance and operational issues, focusing on fraud and abuse, hospital-physician relationships, medical staff bylaws and governance, credentialing, peer review and related hearings, corporate organization, patient care and consent issues, risk management and liability issues and EMTALA and HIPAA matters. Tim works with health care facilities on accreditation matters, including compliance with CMS's Conditions of Participation and Joint Commission standards.

CHRIS EADES

Chris Eades devotes his practice to medical staff governance, credentialing and peer review. As part of his practice, Chris regularly counsels clients on matters involving medical staff bylaws, accreditation standards, FPPE/OPPE, medical staff corrective action, disruptive conduct, scope of practice, peer review confidentiality and National Practitioner Data Bank reporting. Chris also regularly represents health care clients in the context of medical staff fair hearings, claims of negligent credentialing and health-related litigation.
